Veterans' Commission Frames Program for Adoption at

Detroit Convention. HARBORD GIVES WARNING

Army General Points Out Possible inconsistency in Demands for Relief.

By the Amounted Frem WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—A multitude of plans for Scaling with unemployment were before the American Legion today together with a warning from one of its most prominent hembers that re-lief plans and honus demands are a Tridiculous' combination. The warning, from General James G. Harbord, former chief of staff of the American expeditionary staff of the American expeditionary forces, confronted members of the legion's employment commission as they sought to work out an up-employment program for presentation to the national convention at Detroit next week.

The continisation hoped to frame the program today on the basis of a variety of suggestions presented yesterday along with Harbord's advice at the legion's unemployment conference. The suggestions reaged front legalization of beer to ranged from legalization of beer to a $10,000,000,000 federal construction proposal. Cites "Uncasiness" Hurbord said there was "a little measiness" in the country about uneasiness" in the country about the legion.

"I cannot imagine anything more redictions than for you to go down to Detroit with a program of relief for the whole country, relief that will help out the whole nation, and ut the same time, on the other hand, hold out an empty tin cup."

he said.
"If you do, you will be laughed at. And I say that as a man in favor of the bonus legislation of 1924."

Among the plans suggested at the conference which were before the commission today were:
Restoration of the brewing industry, to provide work for 1.250,000 mes.

COLUMBUS. O., Sept. 15.—State Pair Manager Charles M. Beer of Ashland today was unexpectedly dismissed by State Director of Agriculture I. S. Guthery of La-Rue, without explanation.

A few minutes later Director Guthery issued a statement declaring that he had discovered a "brazon plot to defraud the state fair." He described it as a plot to fluggle state fair tickets," but refused to make any format charges in connection with the reported plot.

Beer, numediately upon receiving the notice of his dismissal "picked up his hat and left the office," Guthery said. The dismissal becomes effective at once.

"I am going to demand a show-down," Beer declared later, in commenting on Guthery's upanticipated action. "I would be glad to have the whole thing aired. I did the beet I could with the cooperation of the state fair board, until he took over the arrangements. he took over the arrangements

Revelation of the charges and Beer's dismissal was made when Outhery today issued a summary of the state fair's achievements, he referred to the controversy as "a tempest in a teapot."

ARE INFINITELY RECOMING TO WOMEN

We're stressing large headsizes because these new felts with their velvet and feather trims are so tremendously becoming to women.

Paris says—"It's all in the Brim."

Many of these bats have brims in the true Paris style — smaller headsizes as well and equally smart and becoming.

Sam was thoroughly convinced that ane was not worried, but at the same time she was not able to sleep very well. Fourth had not returned the next morning when Sam came down 15 minutes earlier than was her customs. When Nelson and Martha came downstairs. Sam did not mention worth. She titled to be cheerful and chatty: a difficult feat in the face of the obvious gloom that enshrouded her half-brother and his bride. It was a leiler to learn that the pair was going to the city at once. Nelson in search of work and Martha to see her mother.

As soon as they had left, flam went to the telephone. She called several places where Fourth might possibly have spent the hight, but at none of them could she get any sews. She gave it up, at lest, and was staring unhappily out into the rain, when the front door opened slowly and Fourth came in.

German Issues Lack Support

as Week Advances in Market Circles.

New York, Sept. 15—The recognitive markets brightered a little today, but were still rather sackly.

Share prices were inclined to raily a little at times, but make a low as six for 25 cents Pranches from soling on advances, and there were ecospicious Isolated week spots, but there was no reappearance of large-scale selling. It bonds, the German issues again larged aupport.

American Telephone was a weak trainer of the share market, dropping more than a points to the lowest price in four years reflecting the Western Electric divident on which syndend action is divident on the leading a few others. Falls were again a week spot, Southern Pacific, Ution Pacific, and Actions deciling is to 35 cents a quart were being the leading a point or so higher at times.

Why Not Stop Talking Depression? If people would but etop talking about depression, it would not be long until they would teams to think about depression, and in that event depression and its consequent unem bloyment would autokly disappear.

This will hold good throughout the country: it is sepecially true in the case of our own home city, for during the last two years we have been fortunate far beyond the average city of our size and larger population centers Compared with conditions in many cities, our own has been a hive of industrial and busimany activity. We say this not in a spirit of beauting, but merely as a recital of fact. Our industries have been in operation since the panic of 1929, while those of many cities have been closed, and while commercial business some exceptional cases, has not been brisk, there has been no time at which our business section has taken on the likeness of a tomb. Today our industries are still in openation, some of the larger on full time and with full forces. More men are being taken on to some of them. The conditioning of the heavy motive power of the Eric which we lost some thing over a year ago has been regained. An absolutely new source of employment within tion to 100 persons. BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The examples of the art of the prehistoric people who lived in the Scioto valley and left their stionuments in the carth heaps plentful to be seen still, suffered greatly, it is believed, through the practice of some sort of burial site. As long ago as the exploring enterprises of Squire and Dovid in the Scioto valley carthworks, it was observed that practically all the pipes were broken, but they came to the conclusion that the breaking was the result of clusion that the breaking was the result o beat to which they had been subjected in ere mation processes. It has recently been held that the pipes found in these explorations were not broken by heat but were reduced to fragments before the were thrown into the heaps. Good judges claim to be able to distinguish between the fracture made by heat and the fracture made by blow or by force, ever, after the parts have rested beneath the corth for many centuries. It has been held that if the breaking of the

It has been held that if the breaking of the pipes were due to heat, more of them would secape breaking by accidents protection. A further point in favor of the more recent theory is that other artifacts are far more often found intact.

Tobarco smoking was probably an almost moversal habit among these prehistonic Ontolans. On no other supposition could the number, beauty and art of the designs and the complexities of the fightes be explained. For this reason the art of these people is expressed in the pipes they made more frequently and extensively than it may other form. So that the apparent custom of breaking a pipe before placing it in the earthworks where they are found, has had a deplorable effect upon the preservation of their art
